Please refer to Guide to Taking Common Subjects or the Web Version of the Syllabus in the Tottori University Academic Affairs System.

<https://www.tottori-u.ac.jp/campuslife/class/syllabus/>

(5) Registration

Regular undergraduate international students are to lay down a study plan so that you can satisfy the graduation requirements of your own faculty and register to take courses at your own faculty.

You can get one credit from one "Japanese Language" subject and two credits from one "Japanese Culture and Society" subject.

Regular undergraduate international students can convert maximum 8 Japanese Culture and Society credits to liberal-arts credits and can also convert maximum 6 Japanese Language credits to foreign language credits. However, they can only convert maximum 12 credits in total. (Please refer to Guide to Taking Common Subjects.)

Japanese Studies Program students and special auditing students are to register at their own faculty, too.

As for "Japanese for Regular Undergraduate Students II," it is only offered to regular undergraduate international students only.

(6) Examination and Evaluation
